

On November 8th, 2016,
I transcribed the following Facebook status updates within the hours of Donald Trump's predicted victory as the next President of the United States of America.

How many artists out there are doubling down on international residency apps right now?

I'm nauseous

It's almost like I wish there was someone who polled better against Trump that was available to be the democratic candidate...

#whereismaplegrandpa? ~_(_)/~

Thank god for partners with Italian-Argentine citizenship.
Tomorrow, the chapel.

Holy fuck, America.

We have two years to fucking figure this out. And take back our House and take back our Senate. I'm in.

What DOES THIS MEAN?

Voters hate people like me? Like my parents? Like my friends?

So there is a silent, racist as fuck, backwards silent majority in this country. I never would have guessed.
Hello real life.

Get your towels folks, its about to get rough.

Wisconsin I'm done with your cheddar.

What did we do.

Goodbye immigration goodbye education goodbye climate goodbye civil discourse goodbye 21st century goodbye social welfare goodbye middle class goodbye women's rights goodbye obamacare goodbye Supreme Court goodbye house and senate. So much at stake in this election and so much lost.

Waiting for a flight to Laos in the Hanoi airport and reading all of these updates is mortifying. I just said OH MY GOD out loud at what I'm seeing go down in America. I'm so scared of the country that I will return to. Time and time again America has proven me wrong in believing that we could do better. Thank you for another friendly reminder that old, rich, white men run shit, like I didn't already learn that from my experiences at work.

Luckily he's already said the election results are rigged.

We may look back on this tragedy of a day and laugh, as we collect our unemployment checks and hope we never have medical bills due to our lack of health insurance...

how is this happening? please, dear god. please. keeping my hopes up for as long as i can.

thankful for my dual citizenship right now.

well at least weed is now legal in california

Red Red Red? No checks and balances? We're done.

well, at least i'm proud to be a Californian.

“Hey, John, all 50 states voted to legalize marijuana... and Trump is close to being president”
“Fuck this election”

Fuck you stupid!!!!!!!!!! Fucking stupid!!!!!!!!!!!!

Seriously? Everyone is surprised?

No words for this... unreal

So what happens in December when Donald Trump is convicted of child rape? Mike Pence is our president?
Is that it?

I HATE YOU TRUMP!!

I can't imagine what Hillary is going through right now. I can't even. But. I hope she takes this moment to tell it like it fucking is. That this country is a racist, sexist, bigoted place that we need to aggressively fight against. And that she'll join Obama and Michelle and Joe and every single other fucking national Democrat to fight alongside us and call out and isolate racist and sexists and bigots and white nationalists. #imwithus

Why do people say that we have failed as a country? I think either way the coin is tossed we are screwed. But it will be interesting to see what happens over the next 4 years with either candidate as president. But I do know that this will not break down our entire country. I have faith that we are still strong, no matter who wins. As I read on a post earlier, this could be the flames that the Phoenix arises from

I will now unlearn my education and start speaking like our new leader who speaks and writes like a 7-year old. The word "bigly" will be added to my working vocabulary.
